Good Morning Deputy. I understand that the OPSA has been providing ongoing situational awareness of the Freedom Convoy.

As you will be aware, since Saturday, there have been a number of smaller convoys throughout the Province that have ranged from 30 to 75 trucks. Thus far, save and accept a private passenger vehicle, they have all traveled at the speed limit (with their emergency flashers activated) and there have not been any blockades or significant traffic disruptions as a result.

Last night, the largest convoy to date, of approximately 830 vehicles (approx 200 passengers vehicles included), arrived in Kenora from Manitoba.

Our Provincial Operational Intelligence Bureau (POIB) and PLT are and will remain engaged as they continue their travels to Ottawa.

POIB continues to coordinate and share intelligence nationally (including with the OPSA) via Project Hendon. Below is a brief overview of the other convoys planned or in progress:

- Convoys from the east (Quebec) are anticipated on 28-29 January and the SQ will provide specific information as this develops in Quebec.

- Other southern-based convoys (from SW Ontario – Windsor, Sarnia, Toronto and Niagara) are scheduled to depart on January 27th en route to Ottawa.

The Project Hendon Analyst noted "that while these events pose public safety implications, and have acted as a lightning rod for rhetoric, there has not been specific criminal activity reported in relation to the convoys.

Our EOC is standing up this morning, and we have Critical Incident Commanders and Traffic Mangers assigned to each region.

East Region is working with Ottawa Police and is currently planning for the arrival of the convoys on Saturday and any associated traffic management/enforcement that will be required.

I will provide you with updates on any significant events reported via the EOC. _

Freedom Convoy Update - 26JAN22:

- Approx 471 vehicles participated in the convoy from Kenora to Thunder Bay. The convoy spanned over 50 kms, causing some traffic delays; however, there were no other incidents of concern. Participants are staying overnight in various locations in Thunder Bay and will continue their travels in the morning. OPP PLT, OPP Provincial Operational Intelligence Bureau, OPP Uniform, and Thunder Bay City Police are all engaged.

- A convoy of 45 vehicles (20 CMV & 25 passenger vehicles) traveling the 401 from Windsor on route to Ottawa caused minor congestion issues. OPP PLT and Highway Safety Division are engaged.

- A 25 vehicle (1 CMV & 24 passenger vehicles) convoy on route from Sarnia to Ottawa did not cause any congestion issues; however, a CMV driver was charged with careless driving as a result of a property damage collision. PLT and uniform engaged.

- OPP Provincial Operational Intelligence is actively monitoring open source information and coordinating with our intelligence and law enforcement partners regarding concerning posts inciting violence. To date, there has not been any specific or credible threat identified.

- Primary objectives remain the safe and orderly movement of traffic & collaborating with our partners to mitigate any threats to public safety throughout the convoy routes and in Ottawa.

Freedom Convoy - Hwy 401 in Chatham-Kent area:

A serious motor vehicle collision has occurred on Highway 401 east bound at the 79 kilometer mile marker. The collision involves two motor vehicles. Preliminary information indicates a motor vehicle unrelated to the convoy struck a convoy participant driving a pick-up truck with an ATV in the truck bed. The ATV slid out of the pick-up truck as a result of the impact and struck the non-convoy motor vehicle. EDR is in place at 63 kilometer mile marker. Chatham-Kent PS advised and engaged.

Convoy currently split into 3 parts. Approximately thirty convoy vehicles were ahead of the collision, approximately one hundred and fifty convoy vehicles are stopped behind the collision scene. Some convoy vehicles are currently stopped inside the closed highway area. Uniform and TIME resources are investigating, steps being taken to move all vehicles from the closed highway section._

2 of 2 - Status Update

- The ongoing truck blockades in Ottawa and Alberta (Coutts), have the potential to develop into a national civil disobedience movement that could extend to maritime transportation and, potentially, other major transportation sectors.
- The strategies relied upon by various levels of government and/or the police to resolve matters in one province (Coutts, Alberta and/or Ottawa, Ontario) are likely to influence the actions of the protestors in the other province.
- It is highly likely that new convoys, blockades and protests in support of the Ottawa blockade will occur in Ontario for the foreseeable future.
- Some events are likely to be well organized; others may develop organically or spontaneously with little warning. Blockades are likely at strategic locations, such as border points, ports, transportation hubs, and in major urban centres. These events may also draw counter-protests.
- Multiple police services advised they had received information to suggest some anti-mandate groups are attempting to organize maskless shopping actions. Locations identified to date include, North Bay, Haliburton, and York Region. Further, city halls and public health units remain vulnerable to protest activity.

To enable planning in relation to local events and to ensure the appropriate consideration to the potential provincial/national impact of local police responses are assessed and evaluated, the OPP continues to facilitate the dissemination of intelligence to our policing partners.

The OPP is coordinating the inventory of POU personnel assigned to all police services in Ontario and will be assisting municipal police services with coordinating the sharing of POU resources through a collaborative analysis of the risks associated to various event occurring across the province. —

OPP West Region Command is inquiring with Windsor Police. The initial info from Windsor is that truckers and supporters have completely blocked all lanes of EB traffic coming off the bridge and have lit campfires. We are inquiring into an EDR. Windsor does not have a POU. We will be offering whatever assistance is required. Very little info from Windsor, no direct mention of Stellantis being intentionally targeted, but will obviously be affected by a blockage of the bridge. When we have more, I will provide an update.

Windsor:

- We have assigned a CIC.
- up to 50 officers were immediately dispatched / called in to assist Windsor with approx 200 demonstrators who were swarming Windsor Police Officers and tow truck operators.
- WRP and OPP POU being mobilized tonight for deployment tomorrow.
- MTO heavy tow list and DZ licensed operators identified.
- Lanes to the US and the Tunnel remain open.
- The block is in the lanes coming out of the Canadian Port of Entry and into Canada. Only one lane is open for emergency vehicles only.

Sarnia:

- Traffic is moving in both directions over the Bluewater Bridge - US crossing.
- Reduced lanes approx 50 kms east of the bridge on HWY 402. EDR in place enabling traffic to pass. Any intentions to remove demonstrators needs to be weighed against the risk of blockades shifting closer to the Bluewater Bridge and affecting the US crossing - PLT and INTELL engaged.

Ottawa:

- Integrated Reourcing Planning Team (IRP) are mobilizing an additional 110 OPP (60) and RCMP (50) officers to assist OPS with sustaining their ongoing operations.
- Following two rounds of meetings with OPS command, the IRP is proceeding with an overall operational plan to present to OPS.
- Traffic is moving well through downtown outside the directly impacted areas.
- OPP are monitoring possible convoys planning to arrive in Ottawa this weekend.

Question from M.

Has a joint operation centre been mobilized to ensure Co-ordination between Chiefs?

Status: Read

11/02/22 2:05:44 PM(UTC+0)

To: + [REDACTED]

Short answer, yes, sir.

Detailed overview:

OPP Emergency Operations Centre (EOC) is connected to all of the command posts (CP) / operations centres (OC) that are operating around the province. We don't have, nor do we require, physical representation from any other service in our EOC.

We have OPP in the CPs and OCs in Ottawa, Toronto and Windsor, reporting back to our EOC.

Our EOC is coordinating all requests around the province for POU and MTO.

We conduct daily intelligence briefings for the partner agencies.

POU Command Coordination Group meets daily to deconflict and coordinate. They also met as needed throughout the day/night to manage emerging requests.

Joint Daily Briefings are being conducted for Chiefs.

I received a text while we were on our call that demonstrators are running out of gas and progress is being made. Perhaps the arrival of over 250 police has caused some movement. We have had 7 PLT on ground the last 24 hours as well.

Cornwall is POJ for the Bridge. Jurisdiction may be one of the most complicated in Canada. Quebec, US, Akwasane and Ontario (Cornwall) that intersect at various points.

Cornwall PS had a plan in place.

Akwasane is against the demonstration, so potentially conflict.

Niagara:

- This was one of the most challenging deployments today.
- It involved two convoys, one of approx 350 vehicles and the other of approx 150.
- Convoy participants were using scanners to intercept the police radios.
- Police were able to contain and disperse the large convoy by containing them between exits on the QEW and dispersing them prior to them being able to block the Peace Bridge.
- Demonstrators (a number of which were militant) gained access to the area of the Bridge via on foot. They were dispersed within an hour.
- Private tow truck operators refused a request from NRP to tow an involved vehicle.
- Currently there are no blockades obstructing the Bridge.
- We are maintaining the closure of the QEW to prevent it being taken over by demonstrators.
- We are maintaining a visible police presence overnight and tomorrow.
- We will reassess the risks of a blockade associated to reopening the QEW tomorrow.
- In the meantime, traffic can travel from the US to Canada at the Peace Bridge, and the Lewiston-Queenston Bridge (26 minutes) and Rainbow Bridge (42 minutes) are open as alternative ports of entry. _

Best step for government - I would rather not see CAF playing a role off of govt properties. We could use special constables controlled by police for unarmed patrols, and immediate long-term commitments to adequate policing resources to both prevent and respond to these events.

Sorry for the delay - was on the All Chiefs Brefing.

Two groups of demonstrators attended the area via side streets and POU had to be redeployed to protect the secure area, resulting in additional arrests.

This situation has been cleared, and the area is still secure, but it has caused a delay in re-opening.

They are still determined to open it this evening. I will provide an estimated time asap.

EOD Status Update (1of2).

Highway #402 & Blue Water Bridge (BWB):

- As a direct result of PLT communicating pending enforcement of the provinces' new Critical Infrastructure and Highways regulations, demonstrators engaged in the HWY #402 blockade cleared the highway. MTO were engaged to inspect the roadway and perform winter maintenance, following which, HWY #402 was opened – charges are pending.

- Status quo at the BWB, specifically there is a police presence and there have not been any obstructions.

Windsor:

- Status quo, specifically there is a police presence, physical barriers in place, and there have not been any obstructions.

- There were 5 protestors who attended the area, including one who was livestreaming live via Facebook to 175 viewers. The Critical Infrastructure and Highways regulations was relied upon to deter any unlawful activity.

- A supporter, operating a vehicle from Nova Scotia, was investigated and stated that he had travelled from Nova Scotia to join in on the protest, but was unaware that it had concluded.

- In total, there have been 44 arrests, totalling 88 criminal charges, including: 44 x Breaching a Court Order 127(1)cc; 43 x Mischief Over $5000 430(1)cc; 1 x Obstruct 129(a)cc and Failure to comply with undertaking 145(4)(a)cc. In addition, one of the parties had an outstanding arrest warrant. The status of the 37 vehicles seized/towed will be reported on in a subsequent update.

- Follow up is being done with Windsor Police regarding Crown advice that was allegedly received regarding the application of Critical Infrastructure and Highways regulations when proceeding with criminal charges – more information to follow.

Peace Bridge:

- QEW remains open to the Peace Bridge with traffic flowing well.

- At 15:02hrs, CBSA Intel advised they heard chatter on social media about protestors coming back to the Peace Bridge, but it doesn't appear to be getting any traction. CBSA Intel will continue to monitor. _

EOD Status Update (1/2).

Ottawa:

- OPP and RCMP Command met with OPS Interim Chief Steve Bell and A/Deputy Chief Ferguson. Chief Bell accepted the offer from the OPP and RCMP to establish a unified command team (OPS Chief, OPP D/Commissioner and RCMP D/Commissioner) to oversee the operations in Ottawa. They will provide strategic direction to the operational commanders and subject matter experts executing the operational plan. Purposefully selected from within the RCMP, OPP, TPS, YRP, WRP & PRP, the integrated team includes a forensic psychologist, who specializes in crowd dynamics; critical incident commanders; public order commanders; and, experts in planning, logistics and the use of liaison officers in negotiations. Operating in parallel, is a joint forces multi-jurisdictional criminal investigation.

- PLT is focused on voluntarily exiting demonstrators to reduce the footprint in Ottawa. The new Critical Infrastructure and Highways regulation, along with the declaration of Exclusion Zones under the Emergency Act, will assist PLT and be relied upon for enforcement.

- The strategic priorities are to prevent the attendance of further convoys/blockades; noticeably reduce the footprint currently occupied by demonstrators, ultimately leading to the clearing of all blockades, and the securing of critical infrastructure, including roadways and highways.

- The strategic priorities will be accomplished under the direction of the critical incident commanders, who apply the theory of Necessary / Risk Effective / Acceptable to their critical operational decision making to prioritize safety.

Yes, sir - I submitted an MYP request for an additional 60 call takers to manage call volumes and to mitigate the impact of long-term illnesses. Unfortunately, the MYP request did not proceed.

How significant is your current staffing issue in comms centres?

We are managing it through overtime; however, I would categorize it as significant, and the longer it goes on, the more likely we will see more medical-related absences.

Deputy, will keep you posted on an situation unfolding, specifically a 30 vehicle convoy is enroute from Hawkesbury to Ottawa. We are in the process of shutting down access from the 417 to the city. I will keep you posted.

Deputy, the convoy has been averted via PLT and the off-ramps from the 417 are being reopened. We will continue to monitor for further activity.

Deputy, FYSA...

As a result of a strong police presence and communication regarding enforcement consequences, "Victory Lap Convoys" to Ottawa from Arnprior to Hawkesbury have been canceled for today.
